

Dear Sir or Madame,

I'm writing to express my interest in the exchange program. I'm currently a student at the school, where I'm studying French. I would really like to participate in the program. One of the main reasons is to improve my knowledge of French language. Although I can go to any country in Europe, I would prefer to have a chance to visit France. It would give me a great opportunity to make new friends, to learn new culture and various customs and to try new cuisine. Let alone talking to native speakers of French and visiting famous monuments and museums. As far as my features of the character are concerned, I consider myself to be hard-working, responsible, honest, friendly, enthusiastic, and independent. In addition, I am keen on learning new languages and expanding my social skills. I am currently a teacher of French, so I share my knowledge with young learners. That is why, I am able to pay for my own travel costs. However, I would need some financial support with my living expenses. If I went to France, I would get extremely valuable experience and a great chance to boost my French language speaking skills and to get to know this interesting country.

Yours faithfully,

Anna Kowalik
